

Sebastian Guy
Director

Sebastien Guy was raised as an expatriate and has lived around the world. This worldly experience and background has given him the ability as a director to work in all markets and cultures effortlessly with a strong sense of sensitivity and ease.

Having shot over a 100 commercials, Sebastien confidently takes on all his projects with dedication and world renowned expertise. He started his career as an actor in Los Angeles while studying film at California State University. After having worked extensively as a TV commercial actor, appearing in more than 50 commercials, Sebastien moved behind the camera to become a strong visual and performance director.